

<<Practice Name>>

Innovating & Leading Change in Australian Primary Healthcare

The Improvement Foundation congratulates <<practice name>> on your involvement in the Australian Primary Care Collaboratives (APCC) Program and for the continued contribution you have made to improving primary healthcare in Australia.

Your general practice is at the forefront of quality healthcare and, through collaboration with 54 health services in the Diabetes Prevention & Management Wave, has worked towards improving health outcomes for more than 14,700 Australians living with diabetes and reducing the risk of developing diabetes for more.

people without a diagnosis of diabetes have undertaken a diabetes risk assessment

18,853

more Annual Cycle of Care Elements have been recorded amongst the wave participants

1,110

more Australians now have their HbA1c recorded at less than or equal to 7%

Improvement Foundation thanks you for being part of the APCC Program and congratulates you on your achievements.
